Note from Junior School Deputy Principal

Dear Parents and Friends,

I hope everyone have enjoyed their long Khmer New Year break, and once again, we wish all parents and students best wishes in the new year!

April has been an extremely hot month. As such, we have canceled outdoor play for our children's health and also encourage our children to keep themselves hydrated. We urge all parents to ensure that your children drink sufficient water at home. The outdoor play sessions will stay canceled until further notice and we will keep parents updated.

From 26 – 29 April, we had the Parent Drop-In (PDI) session. These PDI sessions are held thrice a semester and is a platform for teachers to update parents about their child's progress in class, areas to work on and the child's behaviour and social interactions in class. It is essential that parents and the school work hand in hand and communicate regularly to ensure optimal learning environment and growth of our children. A friendly reminder that teachers' pen your child's weekly activities in the communication books to be brought home every weekend and this is a good way to be kept abreast about your child's learning in school.

Our children have been working hard to practise for their end-of-year concert on 16 June. Please save the date as I am very sure that our children are very excited to showcase their moves and songs to their mummies and daddies!

Starting from this month, I have been conducting personal development sessions (PD sessions) for all the children. These PD sessions will cover topics such as values, morals, good habits and more. To begin, I started talking about "Honesty". Honesty is about being truthful and not lying. I played a video for the children which demonstrated cases of being dishonest and why is it not good to be dishonest. Next, the children watched a video on "Pinocchio". Pinocchio is the main character in a children's novel, who is prone to telling lies and fabricating stories for various reasons. As a result of being dishonest, his nose grew longer.

During these sessions we talked about how our lies will keep growing and it will be difficult to stop lying. Also, people will not trust us in future if we keep lying. In class, children commonly lie about having brushed their teeth, having washed their hands after using the toilet and about pushing their friends.

There will be many public holidays in May and we will like to remind all to be safe and careful during your travels.
